Curriculum Vitae: Cecilia D. Villalvazo

Cecilia Villalvazo is an associate at Kopka Pinkus Dolin's Chicago location and handles a variety of defense litigation. She concentrates her practice on general liability and has experience handling insurance defense cases, property damage claims, premises liability matters, breach of contract claims, and more. She also has experience with subrogation claims, tort litigation, and workers' compensation.

Before joining Kopka Pinkus Dolin, she represented insurance carriers on workers' compensation claims and represented a large government agency in Chicago with a focus on tort claims. She is an experienced litigator, defending large and small companies, insurance carriers, and third-party administrators through all phases of litigation.

During law school, at DePaul College of Law, she clerked for various divorce firms and the Honorable Mark J. Lopez (retired). While at DePaul University, she also majored in psychology and minored in political science.

Cecilia also dedicates her time to help mentor students and has mentored several Chicago law students and served as a mentor for Legal Prep Charter High School.
