Haya H. Ahmad focuses her practice on a number of civil liability matters and specializes in all aspects of insurance defense claims. She has experience defending clients on automobile accidents, personal injury protection (PIP)/no-fault cases, first- and third-party disputes, and more. Her background as a claims adjuster at a national insurance company and as a law clerk that handled medical provider lawsuits has provided her with great insight into the claims process.

She has additional experience and knowledge in medical malpractice, contract disputes, and premises liability suits including those at commercial properties, retail and restaurant establishments, and personal lines. Haya has the ability to effectively and efficiently handle a variety of cases for her clients.
